Articulate Visions: The Convergence of Art and Science

Sept. 9 - Nov. 14, 2015

Opening Reception: Sept. 17th, 4:30 – 7:30 p.m.

Botanical illustration is a delicate and graceful art that delights the eye while informing the mind. This selection of works by the Reed-Turner Group consists of botanical artists guided by the parameters and goals of the American Society of Botanical Artists. As stated in its mission statement, the Reed-Turner Botanical Group “works to further the interests of botanical art, conservation science, botany and horticulture at the local level. And to emphasize the beauty and importance plants play in our lives by educating, promoting and exhibiting members work in collaboration with local institutions. The Group has been in existence for three years and meets at the Reed-Turner Preserve.”

Featuring botanical illustrations by: Beverly Behrens, Maureen Claps, Dolores Diaz, Fran Kelly, Sandy Kessel, Heeyoung Kim, Ku-mie Kim, Barb Klaas, Eileen LaBarre, Claudia Lane, Ann Lesciotto, Celine Lillie, Christina Lovering, Lyndsay Murphree, Ramiro Prudencio, Lynne Railsback, Charlene Riffer, Carol Jean Rogalski, Barbara Rose, Carole Schumacher, Serna Sheridan, Jane Sturgeon, Sue Widell, and Jacqueline Willrich.
